Radisson Blu Hotel Milan

ROOMS & SUITES: 260

Chic and stylish...Italy meets Indonesia with high-design result (hotel was formerly The Onet Milan).

Located in Milan's residential Bovisio district, the hotel is optimally situated for getting around town, yet the low-key lobby and private garden, as well as the Italian/Asian restaurant, provide plenty of incentives to stick around. The mix of Southern Europe and East Asia is unusually discreet and smooth, however. In its 250 rooms, a feeling of well-being and comfort, played up by a gentle colour palette. Balinese accents dominate in the Spa, modelled on the courtesy and wisdom of ancient Indonesian cultures and including a steam room, whirlpool and relaxation areas.

Rooms feature subtle, smooth earth tones and strong white accents, come up in wood, bronze, stone, mosaic and textured ceramic, as dictated by Indonesian designer Jaja Ibrahim. This calm doesn't exclude high-tech, however: every space includes satellite TV with video-on-demand library and 32" LCD screen. Throughout.
